CRF®

Cold Crack Filler

CRF® Benefits:

- Flexible
- Resilient
- Resists Oxidation
- Cold Applied
- Long Product Storage Life

CRF® Cold Pour Crack Filler is an economical, safe and easy-to-use emulsion that remains resilient through climatic changes and will separate. It can be used to enhance RAP and most asphalt recycling methods.

CRF® was developed as one of the very first hybrid seals of its kind. It is utilized with an aggregate filler, which penetrates the emulsion and adds binder strength. Unlike standard emulsions (CSS and SS emulsions), CRF® is a blend of asphalt and rejuvenator that is less susceptible to oxidation. Designed to do more than just “coat” the surface aggregate, CRF® reatians supplemental aggregate fillers while the emulsion/aggregate combination fills the surface voids.

Application Process

CRF® is used as a cold pour crack filler, with no need for hot kettles or heated wands. Prior to application, cracks should be cleaned leaving up to a 1/2” reservoir to hold the product. If the crack is deeper, just fill with aggregate up to 1/2” from the surface. The crack is then filled with CRF® and covered with the selected aggregate filler. The repaired area can then be opened to traffic, which will “knead” the mineral filler and emulsional into the voids.

Potholes can be repaired in the same manner, just using a larger layer of filler. Aggregate is placed in the pothole, followed by CRF®, and then courses of smaller aggregate are used to finish the repair. A fine filler is placed on top and compacted as necessary. The process is similar to building a macadam type pavement structure.
